The Department of Medical Education are recruiting volunteer patients to help teach medical students.

The teaching sessions are an opportunity for Cardiff University medical students to practice their examination skills on volunteer patients and to develop their communication skills.

A doctor will be present at each session. The doctor will demonstrate the examination and supervise the students as they examine you.

We would like to recruit volunteer patients with any of the following conditions:

- Cardiovascular conditions
- Respiratory conditions
- Gastroenterology conditions

What can we offer you?

- Tea, coffee & biscuits provided at each session
- A friendly welcome and an opportunity to make new friends
- A £10 gift voucher
- A taxi can be arranged if you don't have transport
